Sand filled gunny bags shall be used such that damage to the coating of the pipes is minimized. If slack loops are required, Sand filled gunny bags shall be properly spaced to permit the introduction of slack loops in the line.

7.2 BENDING

The pipe shall be laid to conform to the bottom of the trench. The Contractor, in general, shall provide for changes of vertical and horizontal alignment by making cold field bends by the use of a bending machine, approved by The Company, in such a manner as to preserve the cross sectional shape of the pipe. The bending machine shall be capable of making bends without wrinkles, buckles and stretching and pipe diameter shall not be reduced at any point by more than

2.5% of the nominal diameter and completed bend shall pass the sizing pig. The minimum radius of field cold bends of pipe shall not be less than 40 times the nominal pipe diameter. The longitudinal weld in a bend section shall be the neutral axis of the pipe. No welded joint shall be included in a bend. The ends of each bend length shall be straight and not involved anyway in the bending and the length of the straight section shall permit easy joining. Tangents approximate two meter in length are preferred on both ends of cold bends. Over bends shall be made in such a manner that the center of the bend clears the high points of the trench bottom. Sag bends shall fit the bottom of the trench and side bends shall conform and leave clearance to the outside wall of the trench. Any bend rejected by the engineer shall be removed from the line at The Contractor's expense and pipe thus removed will be charged to The Contractor as damaged material

7.3 SWABBING, NIGHT CAPPING, PIPE BEVELLING AND CLEANING ENDS AND JOINTS

Internal surface of each joint of pipe shall be swabbed with a leather or canvas belt disc of proper diameter and sufficient length to remove dirt, mill scale and other foreign substances immediately before joining up. The open ends of the pipe shall be closed by metal caps at the ends of each day's work and shall not be opened until the work is resumed. Particular attention must be paid to capping off at open ends left for tie-ins. Any obstruction remaining in the pipe after the completion of the pipeline shall be removed at the expense of THE CONTRACTOR. Just prior to aligning pipe for welding, the bevelled ends of each joint of pipe and the area immediately adjacent thereto shall be thoroughly cleaned of paint, rust, mill scale, dirt and other foreign matter by use of power driven wire buffing wheels or by other suitable methods, so as to avoid defects in the completed welds.

The CONTRACTOR shall re-cut and bevel all pipe ends as may be necessary to maintain correct alignment and spacing of the pipe. No extra compensation will be made by reason of such re-cutting or re-beveling.

7.4 LINE UP

All joints shall be aligned with line-up clamps wherever practicable and may be removed after the root bead is 50% completed, provided that the completed part of the root bead is in segments of approximately equal lengths, spaced around the circumference of the pipe. Partial root beads made when using external clamps shall be uniformly spaced about the circumference of the pipe, and shall have an accumulative length of not less than 50% of the pipe circumference before the clamps are removed.

The space between abutting pipe ends, when aligned for welding, shall be such as to ensure complete penetration without burn-through. For pipes having the same dimensions, the spacing should be approximately 1.6 mm and it is to be essentially uniform around the entire circumference. No backing rings will be permitted. The high low misfit shall be scattered about the periphery or swaged to fit with a set of suitable flatter.

8.0 WELDING SPECIFICATIONS:

8.1 GENERAL

Welding shall be done in accordance with the API Standard for Field Welding of Pipelines, API Standard no. 1104 (latest edition). The following is not to be construed as the complete specifications for welding.

8.2 TYPE AND METHOD OF WELDING

a) Welds shall be made by the manual shielded electric arc process and shall be done in such a manner so as to produce welds as strong as or stronger than the pipe itself. The type of electrodes to be used shall be as follows:

- i. Stringer, 'Root' or First Pass - class E 6010.
- ii. 'Hot' or Second Pass- class E 7010.
- iii. Filler and Subsequent Passes - class E 7010.

The number of passes will vary depending upon the wall thickness. Internal line-up clamps shall be used wherever practicable and external line up clamps shall be used for final Tie in with the existing pipeline.

8.3 The stringer bead shall achieve complete penetration throughout the periphery of the weld and preferably build up a small reinforcement at the root. Weld projection inside the pipe shall not exceed 3 mm. The 'Hot-Pass' or second bead shall run completely around the pipe immediately after the stringer bead and prior to below 940 C. Two welders shall be used to make the 'hot-pass' both working on opposite sides of the same joint. The 'hot-pass' shall fully penetrate the pipe bevel at each side of the stringer making a deposit heavy enough to avoid pin holing. Completed welds shall have a reinforcement of not less than 0.8 mm and not more than 1.6 mm above the surfaces round the entire perimeter of the weld, and the width of the finished bead shall not be more than

3.2 mm than the original groove.

8.4 No two beads shall be started at the same point. All slag and scale shall be removed by power tool from each bead for visual inspection immediately after each bead is done. Welding shall be continuous and uninterrupted during a pass. While the welding is in progress care should be taken to avoid any kind of movement of the components, shocks, vibrations and stresses to prevent occurrence of weld cracks.

8.5 The length of line in which only 'stringer' and 'hot-pass' beads have been completed shall be limited to 350 meters at the end of each day's work. Should a section of the pipe line remain unfinished or falls from the skids, the contractor shall immediately report the same to the Engineer-in-charge and jointly check for possible cracks prior to restarting the welding on the next day. All costs of repairs shall be borne by the contractor.

8.6 Welding Procedure Qualification
