Home Based Digital Learning Model for rural students launched under Project Dikhya

In view of the recent COVID-19 pandemic and subsequent closure of educational institutions, for the 1st time an innovative intervention called 'Home Based Digital Learning Model' has been successfully launched on 17th September 2020 for the students of rural areas of classes VI, VII and VIII of existing 30 schools under CSR Project 'OIL Dikhya' (Earlier in a pre-COVID situation, education under OIL Dikhya was imparted in the 30 schools via mobile computer labs cum libraries, smart classrooms and other pedagogic methodologies). The said alternative intervention in the absence of physical learning in schools will focus on holistic development by addressing the gaps in academic learning (for subjects like Science, Maths, English and Computer Sciences), Life Skills Education, Financial Literacy, Socio-Emotional Learning and various other pertinent topics for students as well as parents.

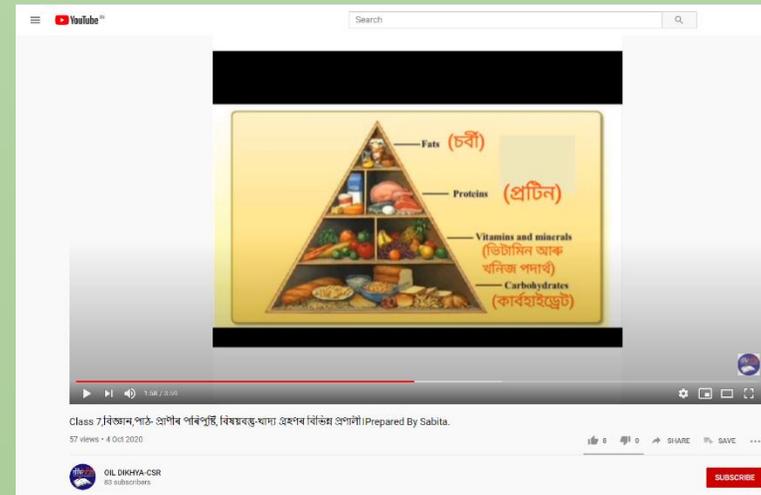

Therefore, keeping in view the lockdown rules laid down by government in schools for containing the virus and to provide continuous learning impetus with a newer dimension for bringing the existing gaps, the 'Home Based Digital Learning Model' is inbuilt with customized and accessible technology based educational solutions covering around 7,000 students along with their parents. The intervention is pertinent in view of keeping alive the zest of knowledge amongst the students which otherwise has been hindered due to the pandemic situation.

In the context of students of OIL's operational areas and focusing on inclusion & equity, the activity-based model is driven by a blended approach for delivering customized content through a three-tier methodology of: (a) Digital (b) Telephonic & (c) Community Mentor Support. Further, the digital & telephonic lessons are driven by two approaches: (i) IVR (Interactive Voice Response) based Community Media Platform through non-data mobile penetration and (ii) Internet-based lesson videos shared through Whatsapp / YouTube, etc. The videos of the uploaded lessons are being made by the teachers from a classroom setting using K-Yan & K-Class.
